

SOLWA

SOLWA IS INVITED AT JOB&ORIENTA

SOLWA is invited to participate at the 26th edition of Job&Orienta* the most important national fair on vocation guidance, school, training and job.

SOLWA, invited by the Veneto Region, has been promoting research activities with National and International Universities, through internships, conferences, workshops and participating actively in the presentation of European Projects. For that reason, the presence of SOLWA in this event underlines the importance of cooperation between the world of work and the one of academic research, to represent the Green and sustainable Projects, one of the Job&Orienta focus areas.

More information on Solwa Website: <http://www.solwa.it/en/events>

 Job&Orienta is the most important national fair on vocational guidance, school, training and job. The exhibition represents a privileged meeting point for visitors and world of work, school and training, and offers useful information and events about vocational guidance. The Fair proposes a rich calendar of cultural appointments, conferences, debates, meetings and seminars addressed to experts, families and young people. There are also workshops, performances and live entertainments to involve visitors actively.*